

Another result which we have already mentioned is that the Bible has been translated into nearly every language spoken by Moslems. Thousands of portions of Scripture are already in use by Moslems and tens of thousands of copies are being sold to them every year by colporteurs and missionaries. The Beirut Press alone has issued over a million volumes of the Arabic Scriptures since it was founded. The demand for the vernacular Bible in Persia, Arabia, Egypt, and the Turkish Empire is phenomenal. Not only has the Bible been translated and widely distributed, but a large and important body of Christian literature is ready for Moslems in Arabic, Persian, Turkish, Urdu, and Bengali, the chief literary languages of Islam. These powerful adjuncts are already being used in the conflict.

And there have been unconditional surrenders. It is an old falsehood widely current even among the ignorant friends of missions, that "it is no use trying to convert Mohammedans," and that there have been no converts from Islam. The fact is that there was a convert from Islam even before the death of Mohammed! One of his early companions went to Abyssinia and there embraced the Christian faith, saying that he was no longer "blinking in the shadow of Islam, but had the true Light." And there have been
