

Copts, reports one hundred and forty baptisms of adult Moslems during its history. In Persia there are Moslem converts at every station of the Church Missionary Society. Even in Arabia and in the Turkish empire there have been converts and martyrs to the faith. From north Africa, the latest reports tell us that at almost all the stations there have in past years been converts and some of them have suffered grievous persecution. There are also many secret disciples.

In Sumatra the Rhenish Mission has 6,500 converted Moslems, 1,150 catechumens, 80 churches, 5 pastors, and 70 lay preachers, while they baptized 153 Mohammedans in 1906. In the district of Si Perok a Christian convert from Islam has become chief in place of a Mohammedan; and in Java, as we saw, there have been still greater numerical results. According to the latest statistics, there are now living in Java eighteen thousand who have been converted to Christianity from Islam, and the converts from Islam amount to between three hundred and four hundred adults every year. In Bokhara and the Caucasus, where work has only just begun, a number of Moslems have been converted and baptized. The testimony of a Moslem professor in the high school in Bokhara, now a convert, may well close this brief sum-
