

1. Christ's Bible, that is the Old Testament, and our Bible, which includes the New Testament, clearly teach the unity and solidarity of the human race. Not only in the story of creation and in the prophecies and promises of the Old Testament, but in the whole scheme of Revelation and the universality of its message, the Bible declares what Paul preached on Mars Hill: "That God made of one every nation of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth." Contrast this teaching with that of caste in Hinduism, the Buddhist doctrine of incarnations, and the hopeless division of mankind from all eternity into two classes, infidels and believers, taught by Islam. Even as there is no true conception of the Fatherhood of God outside of the Bible, so there is no true conception of the brotherhood of man.

2. Christ came to destroy race-barriers and race-hatred. He gave womanhood its place, childhood its rights, the slave his freedom, and the barbarian welcome. In the fellowship of Jesus Christ, his love, his mercy, his Kingdom, there is neither Jew nor Greek, male nor female, bond nor free, Roman nor Barbarian. Wherever the followers of Jesus Christ have disobeyed this law of his Kingdom through race-hatred and prejudice they have misrepresented that Kingdom which has no frontier, and in which the humble alone receive citizenship.

The non-Christian religions without exception condemn women by the principles of their teaching to the place of chattel or slave. Buddhism
