

got to be more to this than that!" Rather than rejoicing that the problem has been solved, the accuser may listen to the defense but continue to be suspicious and unfriendly toward the accused. Such a response is inconsistent with true Christian love. Love believes and trusts and rejoices in the truth.